

LIFE BEFORE LIFE

nanananananana

time what is time a linear rhyme put in equation an interplanetary vibration space what is space a psychical place of infinite dimensions and positive intentions haven't you remember a time when you felt a different light shine the feeling of a whole new different place a million another thoughts and memories of things that in this life have never shown how you could you ever know do you believe in life before life the world before you know a channel in through crystal dreaming another life a different meaning a universe and world where we are one the opportunity has come have you lived your life before life nananana

reality
don't ever stop questioning cos you are infinite dimity and you can do anything even if you say you have no fear I wanna see you cry your tears and when you cry

the light will shine
and when you cry

do you remember another time do you remember another life
