CHANGER

what happens now what do I do
what happens now

the state of this world is too much for me do I run do I hide do I stand up with pride and fight for what is right should I bury deep in the soil and protest my heart or should I retreat express this through art should I stand up and face all this fear or whole worlds disappear

I am a changer and I am a stranger to most I feel like ghost walking this earth
i'm watching the acid rain down

I am but spirit and i'm here to live it Where do we go
Does anyone know
I am a changer

the world is on fire consumers desires the forrest are pleading our oceans are bleeding if no one will save her if we aren't the saviours then who like you I am a changer

ooh I've been given this voice they say its a choice what if i stopped and said nothing ooh this pressure i feel to say something real I don't have all answers my fellow life dancers
